The Age Check Certification Scheme tests that age check systems work. There are a wide range of businesses that have to take steps to gain assurance about the age of their customers, particularly if they are selling age restricted goods, content or services or information society services providing age appropriate design.

The Scheme defines the technical, organisational and documentary requirements, including data protection enhancement techniques, specifically for providers of age check services or providers of age restricted goods, services or content, or design of information society services likely to be accessed by children and related to privacy, handling of personal data and the obligations arising from UK GDPR.

Data protection and privacy is critical to the successful operation of age check data processing services and when designing age-appropriate services. These technical requirements form an essential (and mandatory) part of the assessment of the efficacy and accuracy of clients' age check processes or age-appropriate design.

The Scheme is operated through our UKAS accredited conformity assessment body (Age Check Certification Services Ltd) and the certification criteria contained within this document have been approved by the Information Commissioner's Office in accordance with the Commissioner's tasks and powers under Articles 57(1)(n) and 58(3)(f) pursuant to Article 42(5) of the UK GDPR.
